OREGON LEGISLATURE.

EIGHTH BIENNIAL SESSION.

[Phonographically reported for the Oregonian.]

Senate—Afternoon Session.

SALEM, October 5, 1874.

The Senate was called to order, pursuant to adjournment, at 2 P. M., by the President.

Leave of absence was granted to Messrs. Dolph and Haley.

The journal was read and approved.

On motion, the Sergeant-at-Arms was authorized to make provision for the more perfect ventilation of the Senate chamber.

The report of the Committee on Joint Rules, providing that messages from either House shall be read immediately, was taken from the table and adopted.

The report of the Judiciary Committee on S. B. 19, a bill amending the Code in relation to taking testimony in the courts, with unimportant amendments was taken from the table. On motion the usual number of copies of the bill were ordered printed.

The report of the Committee to whom was referred the bill providing for the location of gates upon public roads was taken from the table, and on motion of Mr. CORNELIUS, the bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The report of the Committee on Ways and Means, to whom was referred the bill requiring Assessors to assess property at its cash value and to return a description of real property assessed, was taken from the table and unimportant amendments recommended by the Committee were adopted.

The report of the Railroad Committee recommending amendments to the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad bill, was taken from the table and the amendments were adopted. The first amendment amends the title. The [illegible] ends the bill so as to leave the law of 1872 relative to contracting for the construction of the road in force. The third strikes out of the bill section 7. The fourth inserts in the first line of section 8 the words "authorized to be issued by section 3 of said Act of October 15th, 1872." The fifth strikes out of line 1 of section 10, the figures 2,468,912. On motion of Mr. WEBSTER, the bill was further amended by striking out section 13.

A message from the House announced that the House had adopted a J. R. allowing clerks of committees a salary not to exceed three dollars per day.

The question being on the adoption of the resolution, WILSON moved to amend so as to say joint committees. Carried. The Senate concurred in the resolution as amended.

Also that the House had adopted H. J. R. providing for the appointment of a committee to investigate the books of the State Land Commissioners.

On motion of Mr. WEBSTER, the resolution was amended so as to refer the subject matter thereof to the Committee on Public Lands. The Senate then concurred in the resolution as amended.

On motion the P., D. & S. L. R. R. was ordered engrossed and read third time to-morrow.

The report of the Committee on Counties, recommending unimportant amendments to the bill relating to fences and trespasses of stock, was taken from the table and adopted, and the bill was ordered engrossed and read third time to-morrow.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

The resolution proposing amendments to the Constitution so as to raise the salary of the Governor to $2,500, of the Secretary of State and Treasurer to $2,000, and of the Judges of the Supreme and Circuit Courts to $3,000, was taken from the table.

Mr. WATSON moved the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. OWENS spoke briefly against the adoption of the resolution, and Mr. WATSON in its favor.

Mr. CORNELIUS moved that the resolution lay on the table, for the reason that several members were absent, which motion prevailed.

Resolutions Nos. 14, 15 and 16, of the session of 1872, all proposing amendments to the Constitution, were also taken up, read and returned to the table.

Mr. CLARK, from the Committee on Enrolled Bills, reported S. B. 46, and six [illegible] properly enrolled.

H. B. 8—a bill to repeal the Act providing extra compensation for Justices of the Supreme Court, was read first time.

Mr. HIRSCH objected, and the question being shall the bill be rejected, the vote stood:

Yeas—Braly, Clark, Cornelius, Hanna, Herren, Hirsch, Lee, Myers, Smith, Tolin, VanCleave, Watson, Webster, Wisdom—14.

Nays—Bowen, Bristow, Crystal, Engle, Goodman, Jewell, Munkers, Olfield, Owens, Richardson, Savage, Townsend, William, Mr. President—14.

So the bill was lost.

H. B. 13—a bill to prevent swine from running at large in certain counties, was read first time.

THE GAME LAW.

H. B. 14—amending the game law, was read first time, and, under a suspension of the rules, the bill was read second time by title.

Mr. TOWNSEND moved to strike out that clause in the bill which provides that nothing in the bill shall be construed so as to prevent any person from killing game for his own use. After a lengthy discussion the motion was lost.

A motion to adjourn was lost.

Mr. BRISTOW moved that the rules be suspended and bill read third time now.

Mr. VAN CLEAVE moved to amend the bill so as to limit the killing of game under the above mentioned clause, to farmers and persons living in the country.

Mr. TOWNSEND moved to lay the bill on the table. Motion lost.

A motion to adjourn was also lost.

Mr. LEE moved to indefinitely postpone the bill. The CHAIR declared the motion out of order.

The question being on the amendment offered by Mr. Van Cleave, the vote stood: Ayes, 10; noes, 14.

Mr. HIRSCH moved to adjourn. Lost.

Mr. RICHARDSON moved that the bill be referred to the Committee on Public Lands. Lost. Ayes, 10; nays, 15.

On motion of Mr. WATSON, the bill was made the special order for to-morrow at 2:30 P. M.

Senate Adjourned.

House—Morning Session.

SALEM, October 5, 1874.

The House met at the usual hour.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Bawerson.

The minutes were read and approved.

FINAL PASSAGE OF BILLS.

H. B. 43—to incorporate the city of Silverton. Mr. FIDLER moved that it lie on the table. Carried.

H. B. 56—to amend section 1,118, of title six, of chapter 15, of the general laws was read.

Mr. CHAMBERS called attention to what appeared to be an error in referring to the section to be amended. It should be section 1,118, of title 6, "of the Civil Code," instead of the "general laws." By unanimous consent the bill was corrected. Mr. CHAMBERS further explained that the bill made no change in the present law, except that it allowed administrators, by leave of the court, to sell upon the premises, instead of requiring all sales of real property to be made at the Court-house door. He hoped it would pass. The roll was called, resulting yeas, [illegible]; nays, none—so the bill passed.

H. B. 14—to amend sections 1 to 5 inclusive, of the game law, was read third time and passed. Section 1 of the bill in its present shape prohibits the killing of any deer, moose, elk, antelope or mountain sheep between the 1st of April and the 31st of September of each year.

Section 2 makes it unlawful to kill, injure or destroy any mallard, summer or wood, widgeon, sprigtail, spoon bill, or black duck during the months of April, May, June and July, with a proviso allowing persons to kill game trespassing on their own land.

Section 3 prohibits any person from killing any elk or deer at any time for the sole purpose of obtaining the horns, hide or hams.

Section 4 prohibits the killing of any grouse, pheasant, sage hen or prairie chicken during April, May, June and July of each year.

Section 5, prohibits the killing of any quail or partridge during the months of April, May, June, July and August of each year, and contains a proviso that nothing in the foregoing sections shall be construed to prevent any person from killing for their own consumption.

The vote being taken resulted, yeas 42, noes 9. Messrs. Bradshaw, Florence, Galloway, Gearin, Gilbert, Laughlin, Stott, Watson, Wright, of Jackson, voting nay, and Darst, Doak, Dufur, Mathieu, Plymale, Reed, of Clackamas, Rinearson, Roe and Shedd, absent; so the bill passed.

H. B. 24—to amend the Act organizing Josephine county so as to include within Josephine about four townships now constituting a part of Jackson county.

Mr. FIDLER supported the bill in a brief speech which was replied to by Messrs. Plymale and Bradshaw.

The bill failed to pass, only Messrs. Fidler, Galloway and Wilson voting for it.

H. B. 4[illegible], to amend section 6, of title 1, of chapter 16 of the general laws in relation to estrays.

Mr. ROSS explained that the object of the bill was to require that notice of the taking up of estrays valued at over $20 shall be published in the county where the estray is taken up instead of in the official paper of the State as under the present law.

The vote resulted, yeas 48, noes 8; so the bill passed.

H. B. 49—to amend the charter of Dalles City was read third time and passed.

H. B. 50—to establish the fees of Justices of the Peace throughout the State of Oregon.

Mr. GEARIN moved that it be referred to the Committee on Judiciary which was lost, as was also a motion by Mr. FLORENCE to refer to Committee on Retrenchment and Reform. On the question "Shall the bill pass?" the vote stood, Yeas, 8, nays, 49. So the bill failed to pass.

H. B. 51—To incorporate the town of Dallas, in Polk county, was read third time. Mr. BUTLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to introduce a section providing that the Act shall take effect from and after its approval by the Governor. The bill was then passed.

H. B. 57—To require parties to give an undertaking for costs and disbursements in suits and actions in Courts of Record, in certain c[illegible]. The bill requires non-resident plaintiffs and plaintiffs having no property in the State subject to execution, to give undertakings for costs and disbursements upon the demand of a defendant, and in case of his failure so to do, the case shall be dismissed at the motion of such defendant.

Mr. BRADSHAW said that as the law now is irresponsible persons may commence an action and compel an adverse party to expend large sums to protect his rights, and though the defendant should finally prevail, he would yet be unable to recover his costs. As it is, suits are frequently commenced, and after a long time abandoned, but the defendant fails to get his costs. There is already in regard to Justices Courts, a proviso similar to this, and he thought the remedy ought to be extended to Courts of Record.

Mr. STOTT did not think it necessary or advisable to pass this bill. When an attorney brings an action for a foreign corporation or non-resident, he is personally liable for costs; and if he fails to pay them he is punishable as for a contempt that seemed to him sufficient protection. If the bill should become a law it would frequently work great hardship upon indigent suitors and strangers who might have a good cause of action and yet be unable to give the required undertaking. He hoped the bill would not pass.

THE COMMITTEE ON ENROLLED BILLS

Reported by their Chairman, Mr. STANNARD, that they had examined H. B. Nos. 14, 24, 45, 49, 50, 51, 57, 58, 61 and 62, and found them correctly engrossed.

On motion of Mr. NOYER the House adjourned.

Afternoon Session.

On resuming at half past one the House proceeded with the consideration of Mr. Bradshaw's bill requiring plaintiffs to give an undertaking for costs and disbursements in suits and actions in Courts of record.

Messrs. STOTT and BRADSHAW again took issue on the bill; the former contending that courts of record should be open to all alike, rich and poor, those who were able to give bonds and those who were not, and the latter stating that the bill left it discretionary with the Judges as to whether security should be demanded.

Mr. BUTLER wanted more time to consider the bill.

Mr. DARST said that although he was not a lawyer, nor the son of a lawyer, he recognized the importance of the bill, and hoped it would pass.

Mr. GEARIN stated that it was well enough to have a law of this kind in Justices' courts, where the costs were small, but in a court of record the costs were liable to run up to a large sum, and a poor man with a just cause of action would be debarred from bringing suit under this bill.

Mr. DRAIN—Mr. Gearin in the chair—spoke in favor of the bill, and said he had seen the necessity for such a law in Douglas county, where an irresponsible person had brought an action on some malicious pretext, and after running up a large bill of costs had absconded.

A motion by Mr. FIDLER, to refer to the Judiciary Committee, prevailed.

A motion by Mr. CRANSTON to print the bill was lost.

H. B. 58—Mr. CRANSTON, to amend section 539 of the code of civil procedure, so as to allow costs to any party recovering a judgment in county or Justices courts, without limitation of the sum of such judgment. Referred, on motion of Mr. CRANSTON, to Judiciary Committee.

H. B. 61—Mr. REED, to extend the suffrage to women, came up on third reading and was made the special order in Committee of the Whole for to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at 7 o'clock.

H. B. 62—Mr. BUTLER, to incorporate the town of Independence, Polk county, passed the House.

The Senate bill for the incorporation of Baker City, Baker county, came up on third reading and passed the House.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE.

A message was received from the Senate intimating the adoption by that body of a report by the Joint Committee on Rules, recommending an additional rule providing for the reading of House and Senate messages immediately on their receipt.

MEMORIAL TO CONGRESS.

Mr. DEAN presented and moved the adoption of a memorial to Congress for a grant of $5,000 to be used for the purpose of having the channel at the mouth of the Nehalem river surveyed and buoyed. The memorial represents that there are immense amounts of valuable timber and coal which cannot now be obtained from the fact that vessels cannot with safety enter the said Nehalem river. The memorial was unanimously adopted.

AN APPEAL FROM COOS COUNTY.

Mr. DULLY presented a petition from the citizens of Coos county asking an appropriation of $20,000 to aid in the construction of a wagon road from the north fork of Coos river to Clayton's ferry on the Umpqua river, in Douglas county, in what is known as Cole's Valley. Said road to be located on the most practicable route via the east fork of said north fork of Coos river and Loon Lake Valley. The road was described as necessary for the following reasons: First—That there is considerable population on North Coos river having no communication with the interior, except by the way of Coos Bay. Second—That the rapid increase of shipping on Coos Bay demands that there be communication with the interior by the shortest practicable route from the head of navigation. Third—That settlement in the Loon Lake Valley is greatly retarded for want of ingress and egress.

The petition was on motion of Mr. DULLY, referred to the Committee on Roads and Highways.

Mr. REED, of Marion, presented a petition signed by 443 legal voters, asking for Local Option and a Civil Damage law.

On motion of Mr. REED, of Marion, the petition of Mrs. F. F. Victor for relief to assist the publication of a book on Oregon, was taken from the table and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, a motion by Mr. BRADSHAW to indefinitely postpone being voted down.

FURTHER RETRENCHMENT.

Mr. RIDDLE introduced and moved the adoption of a joint resolution, instructing the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to ascertain and report the most reasonable terms upon which rooms can be leased for the use of officers in the various Departments of State for the ensuing two years. He understood the sum now paid in rent for such offices amounted to $5,000 a year, and he was informed that suitable premises could be obtained at a much lower rate. The resolution was passed unanimously.

ST. HELENS AND ASTORIA ROAD.

A resolution from Mr. RINEARSON instructing the Committee on Roads and Highways to inquire as to the necessity of surveying and opening a road from St. Helens, in Columbia county, to Astoria, in Clatsop county, by State aid or otherwise.

DALLES AND SANDY WAGON ROAD.

Mr. LAUGHLIN, from the Committee on Roads and Highways, reported back H. B. No. 4, introduced by Mr. MAYS, containing supplementary provisions to the Dalles and Sandy wagon road act.

The report embraced amendments to the bill providing, first, that the advancement of interest out of the general fund shall not apply to warrants already issued and, second, that the warrants and bonds shall be received at their par value in payment for swamp, overflowed and tide lands.

Mr. DUFUR explained that $38,000 of the appropriation for the road is unexpended, and moved to amend the first amendment by making a slight alteration in the bill, thus meeting the views of the committee.

Motions to re-refer and lay on the table were voted down.

Mr. STEEN moved to refer to special committee of five, which motion prevailed, and the Speaker appointed as said committee, Messrs. Steen, Stott, Fidler, McClung and Stearns.

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

Mr. STOTT, from select committee, reported back H. B. No. 72, to exempt homesteads from forced sale in certain cases, with a recommendation that the bill be amended by fixing the value of the homesteads to be so exempted at a sum not to exceed two thousand dollars. The amendment was adopted.

MODOC WAR CLAIMS.

Mr. PLYMALE reported that the committee appointed to wait upon the Governor and request him to lay before the House such books, papers and accounts, together with such information respecting the Modoc war claims as may be in his possession, had discharged the duty assigned to them.

NOTICES OF BILLS.

Notices of bills were given as follows:

Mr. BRADSHAW—To repeal certain sections in the justices' code relating to appeals; also, to amend the act providing for the times and places of holding Supreme and Circuit Courts.

Mr. REED, of Marion, to repeal section 946 of the civil code; also, to amend sections 1 and 5, title 1, chapter 1 of the general laws.

Mr. JOHNSON—To amend the law on the descent of real and personal property.

Mr. FLORENCE—To regulate the salaries of county officers.

Mr. STUMP—To amend section 4 chapter 26 of the general laws.

Mr. MAYS—To amend the miscellaneous laws relating to District Attorneys.

FIRST READING OF BILLS.

The following bills, introduced by the gentleman named, passed their first reading:

Mr. BRADSHAW—H. B. 75, to amend section 1,036 chapter 15 of the civil code, relative to executors and administrators.

Mr. STEEN—H. B. 76, to regulate freights and fares on railroads.

Mr. LEE—H. B. 77, to establish a standard of weights and measures, and creating the office of State Sealer.

On motion of Mr. FIDLER the House adjourned.

Here is the Sacramento Union's last thrust at Senator Conkling:

The main point made by Senator Conkling in his speech before the Utica Republican State Convention, on Wednesday, was this: That because the ex-rebels acted very proudly and inconsiderately some years ago, in refusing to take an active part in politics in States where they were in a small minority at that time, therefore the Republicans are justified in all the acts of plunder, robbery, fraud and perjury of which they have been guilty in the last seven or eight years. We fear that Conkling has descended from the comparatively exalted position of an arrogant senatorial blatherskite to the degrading one of a very small demagogue and partisan slave.

LETTER FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2[illegible], 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

What a grand thing a Saturday afternoon is, to be sure! It brings with it such good times, and is as refreshing after a week's work, as a breezy whiff of woody-scented air on a hot day at noon. Just think what a perfectly elegant thing it is for you and me to know that the banks are all closed and we can't do any business if we want to ever so much. There's no use trying to make believe we don't care for holidays, because everybody does, and so, of course, do we. It just rests me to think of one even, and makes me feel that I don't live my life altogether in vain, especially when I have new bronze boots and high-priced many-buttoned kids to wear. Ah, the lovely kids now-a-days! How it does tantalize one's very soul to see a daintily tinted glove on a slender and delicate hand, when you know your glove has been to the dyer's and your hand looks like a dumpling! It's not everyone can be charming in a dull ribbon or a faded scarf and good clothes are wonderfully becoming, so it's not so very strange that we're all raking and scraping just for something to wear. It is very satisfying to the mind to start for the matinee knowing that your dress sets beautifully, and your sash is tied in a lovely bow, and that you have the newest style of hat on, and there's no use talking about it, for it is uncomfortable to feel that the dark eyes of the Jewess, walking just behind you, have found the place where you had to piece your overskirt, and the yellow haired little blonde who just passed you, laughed because your ruffles looked "skimpy." When we get wrinkled and old maybe we won't care for "appearances" so much, and I hope we'll all drop gracefully into the black silk and gray hairs from which there is no escape. Youth is a thing to fall in love with, though, as one sees it on the Saturday promenade, all rosy and smiling, but isn't it a shame when we have to dig through paint or powder to find it?

THE FAIR.

Saturday afternoon is the time to go there, too, for the promenaders keep up an incessant march—march round the galleries from two till five, and the tread of many feet is on the stairs and a stream of humanity winds in and out of the stands on the main floor of the great building, till it makes one's eyes and head ache to look at the constant walking. Then pretty soon there comes the crash of machinery heard above the drip of the fountain and the hum of voices. Then again it all dies away, and there's a burst of music—the roll of a drum, the clash of the cymbals, the swelling notes of wind instruments, and George Evans stands calmly with the magical baton in his hand, waiving it as unconcernedly as though no music depended on its beat.

There goes a drab suit with the long ball-fringed overskirt drawn tightly from the front, and its steel buttons glistening in the back. Here is a black cashmere with shirred trimmings and lovely bugles [illegible] hand's depth. They shine and rattle at every motion, while the drooping feather and hat ornaments correspond to a nicety in style with the suit. There is a lady whom we know to be just from the far East, so she brings, to be inspected, the latest thing in fashion down to slipper rosettes and shoe laces. She wears an elegant black velvet—what shall I call it?—polonaise. It is long, very long and heavy in its own richness, and is fastened from one shoulder in front to bottom of the skirt, with large buttons of cut jet. Her hair is plain almost to severity; so plain that the faint smooth crimps in her forehead seem apologetically striving to straighten themselves entirely as soon as possible. See that excuse for a man, yonder! His complexion is pink and white as any ball-room belle's; his hay-colored hair is redolent with barber's bottles, and his handkerchief with scent; his buff moustache curls in a sickly, languid way; his cane is slender as a pipe stem—faugh! don't look at him. Every time I enter the art gallery I go straight to gaze upon a lovely face that is hung as high as though it possessed no beauty. It is a clearly defined profile with exquisite lights and shades, and soft eyes that look exactly as though they were staring straight into the gas jets—which it would be anything but romantic to do. After I leave this one I pause invariably at Tojetti's picture of mother and child to look at the rounded arm and dimpled cheek of the fair young mother. That nude Andromeda—how I wish some person would unbind her chains and take her away. I felt sorry enough for her sad situation as related by Anthon, but she is worse off here, and though the picture be "purity itself," as is ecstatically claimed, I should still like to see it decently veiled in something besides atmosphere and a curl or so. Dear, dear; what a world!

AMUSEMENTS.

We had two concerts last week—Gilder's on Tuesday night, and Fabbri's "High Art" concert on Thursday night. At the former there was Mme. Anna Bishop singing "Home, Sweet Home," "I'm Sitting on the Stile, Mary" and "Last Rose of Summer," besides Morley with "Thou Art So Near." After all, the public appreciate words they can understand set to simple music, better than a whole world full of those delicate shakes and trills, which are but as the froth to wine. To the homely, uneducated ear there's nothing like "Comin' Through the Rye" and its sister ballads, and just so long as Gilder introduces them in his entertainments he will have paying houses, see if he don't.

Billy Emmerson is still cracking his jokes and shaking his tambourine at our minstrel-loving community, and there's a wonderful girl at the same house called Lottie, who does such daring deeds that you can't breathe well when you look at her. Of course it isn't well to look at her too long at a time for fear of suffocation.

We are to have Ann Eliza Young on our hands—heaven help us! Curiosity will go to see and hear her, of course. Will we go, do you think?

Mrs. Chanfrau is at the California playing Aurora Floyd. She does not dress in very excellent taste, but looks so well in white or black it is a pity she can't wear them all the time. She has nice eyes, and a hearty, contagious laugh it does one good to hear, and both these things go a good ways, you know. Sophie Edwin is at the same theater doing the "heavy business." When she blacks her eyebrows she looks too wicked for anything. They have a little Miss Chapman there, who has a weak voice, and paints a good deal, but she's rather pretty.

BUILDINGS, ETC.

You've no idea of the blocks upon blocks of houses being erected here. You can traverse scarce a square without coming upon timbers and bricks, laths or mortar, and as fast as they are built they are taken. From the heart of the city clear out to the Green Hills they are coming up, house after house. Row upon row of homesteads are lifted, and those, of course, make permanent homes, but more are tenements, and on these "to let" is hardly displayed before it is taken down again. Since people have returned from the country, there is much demand for comfortable and convenient residences, so, of course, the rents have gone up and there's no such thing as saving a cent. You can't get a decent, respectable looking house for less than $50 per month, and if it is new, with modern conveniences, it is all the way up from $80 to anywhere! People wonder so much why young married people don't go to house-keeping in sensible style as their parents did before them. The truth is, there are no houses at moderate rent, and as they can't afford to spend half their earnings just for a roof to shelter them they must make themselves miserable by boarding, which is much cheaper. I believe nine girls out of ten would rather do their own work in a house they could call their own, than sit with folded hands in somebody else's, if the comfort and pleasure of a home did not cost so dear. A friend the other day was married, whom I playfully reproached for going into a boarding-house which I told her was a hot-bed of extravagance, indolence and gossip. "Ah!" said she, earnestly, "you do not know how gladly I would sweep and dust, wash dishes and make puddings, though I know there's some of it not pleasant work; but we really cannot afford it. We cannot get small houses. There are none to be had, though there are plenty of big ones with big rents. And because we don't keep house, people give me credit for nothing but extravagance and style, never thinking once that we are just starting in life and haven't long purses." So you see there are plenty of sensible girls when opportunity comes to try them.

There are other buildings besides residences, too. The great stolid New Mint looks as if it had the blues already and quite crushed beneath its large chimneys. Then there's the City Hall, out on Market street, which promises never to be done till you and I are dead and buried. Way over on Rincon Hill they are soon to commence a twenty-four class school house. Think of the confusion 1,200 girls could make if they chose, when one makes such a noise when she tries!

OUR WEATHER.

We've had warm snaps and the snappiest of cold snaps, lately—which will you have? The last day or so it has been warm—perspiringly so, and we've worn many flounced calicoes and starched linens in consequence. By the way, why do we all wear great fans, depending by chains from our belts, in the streets? We can't use them there, I'm sure, but we wear them anyway.

These are nights made on purpose for drives to the Cliff House. Such moons never fulled, and such stars never blinked and twinkled before to be wasted. Who is it said there was only one country in the world beside California where the moon was bright enough to read by? Some one who knew, perhaps, and some one who didn't, may be. Anyway one dares to scamper half a block to a neighbor's these moonshiny nights, without being scared out of their wits at the dark corners. Of course, I mean myself.

CATHIE TREHAINE.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Industrial Fair will begin at Olympia to-day.

The yield of wheat in Dakota Territory this year will be about 15 bushels per acre.

Hon. W. L. Adams, of Oregon, is sojourning in the City of Saints, alias Mormondon.

The Helena Herald is now printed by steam, the first newspaper in Montana to use that agency.

A Salt Lake astrologer is still predicting that Brigham Young will turn his toes to the daisies on the 7th of next December.

Republican and Democratic County Conventions are to meet at Lewiston on the 7th and 12th respectively, to nominate district and county tickets.

An unoccupied dwelling belonging to Mrs. Regan, at Walla Walla, was burned down on the night of the 28th. Supposed work of an incendiary; loss, $1,600.

A gentleman just returned from Southern Utah, says peaches in the orchards down there are so plentiful that the owners cannot take care of them, and thousands of bushels are rotting on the ground.

Two boys named McGeary, of Walla Walla, got hold of a can of powder a few days ago, and playing with it, set it on fire and it came near sending them to kingdom come. They'll know better next time.

Spotted Tail reports to the U. S. Indian Agent at Ponca agency, that the white men are pouring into the Black Hills. No use to try to keep them out, they will go, Indians and military to the contrary.

Wm. Fotheringham, of Beaver, Utah, has been held to answer for the crime of polygamy by Judge Boreman of the U. S. District Court. His bail is fixed at $2,000. And still Geo. Q. Cannon, from that Territory, holds a seat in Congress as Delegate.

The telegraph station and agent's residence at Hutt's Camp, about 40 miles north from Seattle, was totally destroyed by fire on the 2d inst. The office was in the residence of Gard Kellogg, who was operator. Loss, about $3,000. The buildings are said to be insured.

A number of Scotchmen of Olympia have formed an organization with the name of St. Andrew's Society of Washington Territory. Its officers, at present, are Thomas W. McDonald, President; John M. Swan, Vice-President; E. T. Young, Secretary; Thomas Macleay, Treasurer.

Four double-decked ten mule teams of the freighting outfit of Berryman & Rogers, Helena, arrived in town to-day, loaded with 20 tons of silver ore from the Trapper mine, on the Big Hole, Montana. The ore goes from $500 to $700 per ton, and will be shipped to Swansea, Wales, for reduction.

When the cars ran off the track between Kalama and Tacoma, last week, the brakeman was on the top of the hinder freight car, and as the two forward ones turned over to the left he jumped to the right, and barely escaped being crushed by the car that followed him. He was cut over the eye, bruised on the leg and badly jarred. Another employe jumped and lost two front teeth from a fall headfirst into the dirt. While the fireman was drawing the fire from under the boiler, after the accident, he slipped and partly fell, driving a sharp pointed poker he held in his hand, down through the boot and foot of Ed. McCall, engineer, into one of the ties, so hard that it required an effort to withdraw it. The iron was nearly red-hot and made a bad burn and wound. The bull which attempted to stop the train and caused the accident, was made into sausage meat. He was a fine Durham and belonged to Hon. O. B. McFadden.

SOLIDITY VS. BRILLIANCY.—Our best Presidents have not been showy men; hardly any of them orators. Washington had not much higher intellectual gifts than such as we often find among solid farmers. Jefferson could not make a speech. Jackson didn't even know how to spell in his own language. Madison, Monroe, Polk and Taylor were not what the world calls brilliants, and in any fashionable company of this day they would compare with Evarts not much better than stars of the fifth magnitude with the planet Venus. But we are not to argue, from this that Evarts would make a better President than Madison, or Monroe, or Jackson. We should in fact all be agreeably disappointed in him if on trial he made half as good a one; and our disappointment would spring mainly from the fact that this man is an orator and showy man. It is almost impossible to find showy qualities and solid qualities combined in the same person—who is at once orator, statesman, politician and prudent ruler. Nations are generally best served when they can put the orator, the statesman, and the man of caution, resolution, and administrative powers, each in the place where his special endowments of mind and heart fit him to be. It is only once in a thousand years that mankind can look upon a "many-sided" man like Cæsar, who seems to have been expellent in every quality of greatness.—Sacramento Union.

MONEY ORDER BUSINESS.—The exhibit made by the Money Order Division of the Postoffice Department for the year ending June 30, 1874, is very flattering. The amount of orders issued was $75,424,854, against $57,516,216 last year, which was $9,000,084 more than the preceding year. The fees on orders issued amounted to $401,322, being $106,720 more than last year. The expenses were $360,590, or $70,590 more than last year. The orders issued on British account amounted to $1,491,320; the fees, $44,508. The British orders paid amounted to $303,773. Last year the British orders issued amounted to $1,364,376; the fees, $40,304; British orders paid, $215,067. German orders issued, $701,034; fees, $19,288; orders paid, $535,216. The exchange of orders with Germany commenced October 1, 1872. The Swiss Money Order exchange shows no material change from preceding years. The large increase in the amount of [illegible] orders is partially due to the late panic, when other drafts were paid in certified checks, while Postoffice orders were always paid in actual money.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

SALEM, October 5, 1874.

The Senate adjourned at noon last Friday, to meet at 2 P. M. to-day, but the House kept grinding on until late in the afternoon of Saturday. Most of the Senators accepted Dr. Hawthorne's invitation to visit the Insane Asylum, and the Saturday morning express took them hence. But not all of them.

WILL YOU COME INTO MY PARLOR?

With that courteous hospitality and overpowering generosity which characterizes him during sessions of the Legislature—Ben Holladay extended to the members of the Senate an invitation to accompany him on an excursion to Roseburg last Friday evening. This was the first web. For some reason few of the honorable Senators stepped into it, and so the President's car left the Capital last Friday evening without the intended prey. The sombre Surveyor-general and the sportive partner-of-Hipple-in-the-Senate, with one or two others of that ilk, constituted the precious freight of the President's car. It was certainly considerate in Ben, tortured as he is with all manner of aches and pains, racked with disease, and suffering the pangs of the damned from a conscience that will let him neither slumber nor rest,—I say it was considerate in him to undergo all the personal inconvenience of such a journey in order to communicate to one branch of the Legislature his views on the various railroad bills now before it.

WHAT IS THE GREAT CORRUPTIONIST DOING?

That is what every honest man wants to know, just now. Holladay has been in Salem, by his agents, ever since the first day of the session. There are all kinds of rumors as to his intentions and his plans. Some say he wants the Winnemucca road, others that he is waiting until Col. Chapman's scheme shall be advanced far enough to make it an object to capture the P., D. & S. L. R. R. That he has some design for extending his (or the German bondholders') railway system is believed by a great many because of divers reports, now afloat, concerning an effort to [illegible] complete control of the Oregon and California road. I have been informed by a gentleman whose sources of information are entirely reliable, that within the last two weeks Holladay has offered S. G. Elliott $[illegible] to withdraw from the suits now being [illegible] in his name. The evident strength of the Winnemucca project seems to have infused new vitality into "the old man." He is girding up his loins for such contest as he may make. But he is weak in the loins, you know, and perhaps no immediate di[illegible] to the Commonwealth is to be apprehended, after all. At all events the Legislature [illegible] serene and undisturbed in the midst of his machinations.

THE WINNEMUCCA RAILROAD BILL.

Every true friend of Oregon will rejoice to hear that the prospects for the speedy p[illegible] of this bill are excellent. The Joint Committee on Railroads have had it under consideration at several meetings, and it is [illegible] certain that the original bill, modified in some important particulars, will be reported at an early day.

At a meeting of the Committee held last Tuesday evening, a full and thorough discussion was had. The bill was read section by section, and after over four hours of earnest work the Committee adjourned to meet Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock. At this adjourned meeting two amendments which had been submitted on the previous evening by a prominent member of the Committee, were carefully considered. These amendments were substantially as follows:

1. Reserving to the Legislature the right to revise and amend the bill at any time after it shall have become a law, and
2. Reserving to the Legislature the right to fix freights and fares on the line of the road.

These amendments have been urged with earnestness, and the discussions have been long and full of interest. The Company objected to the first because it reserved to the State the right to strike down the powers of the bondholders, and because, with such a reservation in the bill, it would be impossible to float the bonds in any European market. It was, said the Company, equivalent to reserving the right to change the contract without the consent of one of the contracting parties. It is now believed that these, which seem to be the only objections, have been fully met by the addition of a section intended to cover the points made by the Committee. This additional section provides:

1. That the State reserves the right to amend the act at any time, "with due consideration for the rights, interests and powers of the bondholders."
2. That there shall be no discrimination in freights and fares, and that the Legislature may at any time hereafter, as it sees fit, require the appointment of a Board of Commissioners, of which Board the Governor of the State of Oregon shall be one, one to be appointed by the bondholders, they two to select a third. This Board of Commissioners shall have power to fix reasonable rates of freight and fare.

I am informed by a member of the Committee who has taken a great interest in the railway measures now before the Legislature, that this proposed section will accommodate the objections he has held to, and that it will undoubtedly satisfy his colleagues on the Committee. It is probable another section will be added, which will provide that none of the property of the company, except that used for railroad purposes, shall be exempt from taxation.

OTHER RAILWAY BILLS.

Col. Chapman [illegible] me that he has entire confidence in the final [illegible] of his bill; that he is in no wise hostile to the Winnemucca road, and he is satisfied that the latter will not interfere with him!

The Oregon Pacific Road—the other P. D. & S. L. R. R. scheme—seems to have sunk out of sight. Nothing is heard of it now.

THE REGISTRY ACT.

The bill introduced by Mr. Stott, providing for the registration of the legal voters of Oregon, etc., is now printed and on the members' desks. It will undoubtedly pass, as it should.

OREGON.

A very considerable frost fell at Pendleton last week.

The Jacksonville Social Club, burnt out in last spring's fire, is about to "Phœnix."

The streets of Pendleton were thronged with Indians of all sizes and sexes last Sunday from the reservation.

W. P. Anderson, of Albany, Oregon, was recently awarded letters patent on a clod-crusher invented by him.

James M. McGarvey has put in the "dry season" this summer burning lime, and has for sale at his kiln on Williams creek several hundred bushels of the finest lime burned in Oregon.

There will be racing on Bybee's track, near Jacksonville, commencing on October 20th, and lasting three days. The racing will be half mile heats for runners on the first day, free to all; second day, trotting, miles heats, free to all; last day, single dash of one mile, free to all horses in Jackson county.

Marshall Lodge No. 100 I. O. G. T. of Pendleton, was reorganized Sept. 30, 1874, by State Deputy Levi Leland. The following is a list of officers elected and installed to fill the remainder of the present quarter: J. A. Pruett, W. C. T.; Mrs. B. Reeves, W. V. T.; M. L. Starr, W. S.; J. A. Williams, W. M.; W. H. Marshall, W. F. S.

Some hoodlums at the Dixie camp meeting last week, acted most shamefully, and the decent people were most seriously perplexed. Harness and saddles were cut to pieces, the linch pins taken out of wagons, a number of articles stolen and the fence around the camp ground set on fire. A [illegible] of fine shot would have had a good effect.

TUESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 6 1874

THE PORTLAND POLICE.

For about four years this city has been enjoying the blessings of a metropolitan police system. This system embraces everything connected with the police department of the city government Its organization was a fraud and outrage upon the people of the city, and its subsequent history has well comported with its origin The system that preceded it was so subject to gross abuses that it was impossible to devise a system more so But just at the time of the adoption of the present system, the city had a reasonably efficient police force and a [illegible] police judge For once a vicious mode of choosing police officers had failed of its usual results, and given us tolerably fair officers—a system that had made a judicial officer for years out of no better timber than Jake Hoffman had at last by the merest accident, replaced him with Levi Anderson

The Democratic Legislature of 1870 for purely partisan purposes legislated out the police judge and chief of police—they were called respectively Recorder and Marshal then—to make room for the present Chief of Police They [illegible] for the judgeship, and therefore left the appointment to that office in the hands of the Mayor till the next election. Having an honest and intelligent man for Mayor, we had an excellent judge till the end of that term. He was replaced by the present incumbent, and soon after began the practices by which the people of the city have been wronged out of no less than $6,000, and quite likely $10 000 per year ever since—about one-third of the sum being chargeable to the executive department of the police and two-thirds to the judicial. The people have complained bitterly but never more bitterly than the facts in the premises justified

It would be naturally supposed under these circumstances that the members of the Legislature from this county, and especially those residing in the city, would endeavor to apply a remedy to these evils, and this, we learn, is the object of a bill introduced by Mr Stott to amend the Charter of the city We have not had an opportunity to examine the bill, but from a general statement of its provisions we conclude it is a well considered measure to relieve the people of the burdens of a police system, that is justly odious But the same cannot be said of Mr Dolph's Senate bill It strikes at the evils in the police force, but it leaves the main evil uncorrected, it leaves the judicial branch of the fraud untouched When Lappeus pockets a dollar that ought in equity and right to go into the City Treasury Judge Denny fobs two dollars But Denny is a prominent member of the ring—very prominent considering his calibre He is therefore left out of the [illegible] of reform invented by the ring Senator Lappeus' salary is smaller than Denny's, and the fees he pockets under a technical defect in the law contrary to its clear intent, are not nearly equal to those taken in exactly the same way by Denny But the salary of the Chief of Police is cut off by Dolph's bill—and rightfully, too—and he is left to the judgment of the Common Council for his compensation for services rendered the city, whilst Denny's larger salary, supplemented by much larger fees, and which is so grossly disproportionate to his services as to be simply outrageous, is carefully protected It is surprising that even Dolph is not ashamed to bring forward such a manifestly rascally measure

Let the whole atrocity be swept away, and let a system replace it that is not a standing disgrace to the city and State, but do not make a pretense of reform and leave the worst feature of the evil intact Dig it out by the roots, and do not leave the main tap-root because, forsooth, the sap that is drawn by it goes to support the discipline and run the organ of the ring

THAT MILITIA BILL

Any person who can manage to organize a small number of men into a militia company may, under the law as it now stands, demand that the county in which such company is organized pay the company $50 per month to furnish armory, &c. Mr Gearin's bill proposes to amend the law so as to make it $100 per month, instead of $50, exempt the members of such company from road tax and poll, exempt their property from taxation to the amount of $1,000, and compel the State to furnish them with a uniform. How is that for retrenchment? Instead of $2 400 now paid by this county to keep up its quota of the standing army of Oregon, we should, in case this amendment be adopted have to pay $4,800 per year directly and lose the road and poll tax of those composing the four militia companies, and the tax on each man's property to the amount of $1 000 This revenue will have to be raised off the other taxpayers If only one half the militiamen have property, the amount taken out of the taxable property of the county will be not less than $60 000 and for aught we can tell in the absence of the Adjutant General's report the sum may be $100 000 Besides this, the State at large will be called on to furnish a suit of clothes for every man who belongs to one of these military organizations

We see no earthly use for all this expensive show It might be well enough to have the more populous counties contribute something toward the maintenance of one Company each for use in case of fires, for the quelling of riots, and for ornament in Fourth of July parades but instead of increasing the expense of the system, it should be cut down and placed within proper limitations. No county should be required to pay out money to sustain more than one Company All beyond that is sheer wastefulness

The [illegible] Dolph tried to sail a little too close to the wind on the bill to pay the Modoc war claims In order to keep in with both the friends and the opponents of the measure he voted for it "under protest" Voluntary but under protest! We heard a gentleman remark on the street yesterday that he considered McClellan's celebrated feat of riding two horses at once one going each way fairly eclipsed in the performance of the Senator from Multnomah

CLATSOP COUNTY

It is to be hoped the Legislature will not forget the case of Clatsop county, in the multitude of other important matters they have in hand The redistricting and apportionment by the last Legislature was extremely unjust to Clatsop county While other counties having a smaller population have a full Representative Clatsop is left without one According to the census of 1870 Clatsop county had at that time a population of 1 255 Since then the population of that county has increased very rapidly—probably at a greater ratio than that of any other county in the State At the last election there were 446 votes cast in that county which at the commonly received estimate of five people to each voter would make the population 2,225 But we are assured by Mr Joseph Jeffers, who has taken much pains to inform himself on the subject and is perhaps as well advised as any other person in the county that the present population of the county does not fall below 2 600 It needs no argument to show that an apportionment which leaves this county without a Representative is wrong The remedy is a simple one but it will not apply itself it must be applied by the Legislature

The facts stated by our correspondent who writes over the signature of "Retrenchment" ought to awaken the people to a sense of the situation If the present session of the Legislature fails to stop the leaks at the Capitol Commissioners office, at the Penitentiary, in the State Land Office it will deserve censure And the matter should not stop when the leak is stopped Steps should be taken to recover back the thousands of dollars illegally paid out Such cases should be handled without gloves There should be no mincing about it The money thus scooped out of the people's treasury is the people's money and the Legislature ought to see that it is restored

Declaring that Andy Johnsonism was a matter upon which Union men may honestly differ, was not a patching to voting for a measure and at the same time protesting it is wrong

ODD FELLOWS

Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of the United States.

A MAGNIFICENT RECEPTION, AND AN INTERESTING SESSION

From the Atlanta (Ga) Herald we condense the proceedings of the Grand Lodge of the United States I O O F which convened at Atlanta on the 21st of September

First Day

The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of the United States one of the finest looking body of men that have ever honored Atlanta with their presence, assembled at the Capitol yesterday about 10 o clock A M

THE GRAND LODGE OF GEORGIA

Escorted by the subordinate Lodges, marched from their Lodge on Marietta street, to the Kimball House, where they received the Representatives of the Grand Lodge of the United States, forming a procession in which the Grand Lodge of the United States occupied the center They marched out Whitehall to Mitchell thence to Broad and back to the Capitol They were preceded by Wurm's Brass Band, and on arriving at the Capitol building

THE LINE HALTED,

Formed two lines, faced inward and the rear of the procession marched through The procession consisted of the Georgia Independent Order of Odd Fellows including the lodges of Atlanta and vicinity Every jurisdiction was represented and the list we gave Sunday morning was very near correct but we give it to day perfectly so

The Past Grand Sires present were William Ellison of Massachusetts G W Race of Louisiana J B Nicholson of Pennsylvania J B Sanders of New York and F D Stuart of the District of Columbia

ON ARRIVING AT THE HALL

of Representatives, which had been prepared for their use, the crowd was so great that it became necessary for some of them to go into the gallery After all of the procession had entered an address was delivered by Dr H V M Miller the substance of which we give below

DR MILLER'S ADDRESS.

Representatives of the Grand Lodge of the United States I have been commissioned to deliver this the address of welcome, to your honorable body.

Atlanta with its railroads and fine climate has been for years a favorite resort for all such meetings as she is to-day honored with, and she fully appreciates the advantages derived from such distinction shown

BUT THERE ARE OTHER CIRCUMSTANCES

Connected with this meeting of peculiar interest This is the first time in the history of your Order that they have had a national reunion in this State, all of the meetings heretofore having been purely local and the fact that every State in the broad Union is represented gives remarkable interest to the occasion, and we hail this as the forerunner of better times and by which the country will be united in a strong band of

FRIENDSHIP LOVE AND COMMUNION

During a long series of turbulent years most of us have neglected geography, and frequently in the past few days when introduced to some representative of your Order from some far off place, I have been obliged to connect the name of the place with some incident of the past which would enable me to locate it and at times it seemed hard to realize that a gentleman from Pennsylvania was a descendant of the followers of Wm Penn, and that his ancestors were probably Dutchmen and Quakers [Laughter]

IN THINKING OF TEXAS

I associated the name with a belt filled with pistols and bowie knives while of Oregon I first imagined that it was a far off country of California

We have been torn up by political strife and the people have been annoyed by Kuklux outrages but when I see this grand reunion of brethren from all sections of the country I feel that they will work out a great and happy future

And all political differences will be tolerated though each State remains distinct as the billows and by the influence of Odd Fellowship America will be one as the sea Most of the meetings which have been held by your Order in this State have been partisan but your object in coming here commands approval for you have come here to advance the interests of charity and to illustrate what Lord Bacon calls

RELIGION IN MOTION

Our religion applied and may be styled an interest of a broad humanity In this respect I feel that yours is a high mission It is impossible for me to notice each State separately but I want to say a few words about Canada for she would have been bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh had it not been for the power across the waters Still by the influence of Odd Fellowship she is united with us. You are all aware of the advantages of your Order and its infinite advantages to suffering humanity and when it becomes universal we will no longer have wars or rumors of wars especially like the one through which we have just passed when fraternal blood was shed by fraternal hands but

THE LION AND THE LAMB

Will lie down together [Applause] Your Order has not prospered as well in this State as it has in the North, but you will soon occupy equally as high a position for brethren you do not meet to advance any political or sectarian interest You come for good and you challenge the good wishes of every right thinking mind and may God speed the day when the principles you represent shall prevail throughout the land and

FRATERNITY AND LOVE

Reign triumphant

We bid you welcome in behalf of the Grand Lodge of Georgia, your brethren of this city and the citizens of Atlanta We bid you welcome, thrice welcome to our hearts and homes [Applause]

This address was responded to by Deputy Grand Sire Durham who is a Kentuckian and who took occasion to compliment Georgia as the Empire State of the South and made some very eloquent remarks upon the unity and concord that characterizes the Order, while conflict and strife are all around

A prayer was then offered up by Rev Mr Venable the Grand Chaplain

By consent Rep J W Stokes of Pennsylvania was appointed Deputy Grand Sire pro tem

The report of the Acting Grand Sire was then presented which showed the Order to be in a flourishing condition Odd Fellowship has recently been introduced into Germany and into South America and application to the Emperor of Austria for leave to introduce it into his dominions was courteously received and encouragement was given to the hope that such leave might be obtained

Concerning the contributions to relieve yellow fever sufferers of Memphis and Shreveport last fall the report says

The whole amount contributed to the Memphis fund was about $46 000 they expended about $21 000 leaving a balance of $25,000 on hand The amount of the Shreveport fund was about $3 400 The amount on hand is about $1 100 unexpended This is an anomalous case, that for the sufferings growing out of a great calamity there should be twice as much contributed as was needed My opinion is that the residue of said funds should be held by the Grand Lodge to meet another great calamity if one should occur or be returned to the donors Certainly it cannot be insisted that we should relieve our brothers to the fullest extent and then besides make their Lodges rich If this be practiced our brothers will be slow in the future to contribute liberally to such objects I ask that the Grand Lodge consider this whole question and pass upon it

A communication was read from Grand Sire Logan dated at Santiago de Chile, from which it appeared that his duties as Minister to Chile do not so wholly engross his attention as to render him forgetful of the interests of the Order He reports the organization of a lodge at Valparaiso, Chile

The reports of officers showed that quite a number of subordinate lodges and encampments have been chartered in the Territories and in the British Provinces directly from the general Grand officers instead of from the local Grand Lodges

The standing committees were then appointed Representative W J Snodgrass of Oregon is on the Committee on Correspondence, and Representative Joseph Buchtel is on the Committee on Petitions This may be considered very complimentary to the Oregon Representatives considering there were many members from other jurisdictions who were not placed on any Committee

Second Day.

TUESDAY Sept 22, 1874

The Grand Body was called to order by D G Sire Durham Prayer was offered by Grand Chaplain Venable and the Grand Lodge of the United States proceeded to business

Grand Representative Tyson of Georgia, extended an invitation to the Representatives, Past Representatives and their families to an excursion at Oglethorpe Park Also for the Grand Body to accept a banquet at the Kimball House on Wednesday evening, which were accepted with the thanks of the Grand Lodge.

The committees and jurisdictions were called for business and numerous resolutions appeals etc were handed in and referred to the appropriate committees

Many of these subjects embraced will be discussed some lost, some passed As it is our desire to give what is done and not what is offered we will condense, under appropriate heads the gist of those that are approved only

The special order of the day at 10 A M, was the election of officers That time having arrived the Chair nominated Representatives Simpson, of Pennsylvania and Tyson of Georgia.

Deputy Grand Sire M J Durham of Kentucky was unanimously elected Grand Sire, Grand Representative Porter of California casting the ballot on behalf of the Grand Lodge

The following nominations were then made for the position of Deputy Grand Sire:

John W Stokes of Pennsylvania J B Alexander of Illinois Jno J Leech of Iowa,

Representative Alexander of Illinois returned his acknowledgments to the friends who had placed his name before the Body, but respectfully declined being a candidate.

The jurisdictions were then called, and the vote resulted as follows

Votes cast 128 necessary for choice 65 Representative Harmon of California, received 4 Representative Leech of Iowa 31 Representative Stokes of Pennsylvania 93, and was declared elected Deputy Grand Sire

Grand Secretary James L Ridgely was unanimously re elected Past Grand Sire G W Race of Louisiana casting the vote

Grand Treasurer Vansant was unanimously re elected Past Grand Sire Sanders, of New York, casting the vote

The brethren of this great fraternity have reason to be proud of the officers of the present term who succeed to the chairs of a long line of illustrious predecessors

Grand Secretary Ridgley and Grand Treasurer Vansant, are so well known in their offices that it would be out of place to even hint at any successor to them

Grand Sire Durham is an old member of the Grand Lodge of the United States a member of Congress, an able and impartial gentleman The absence of Grand Sire Logan during the major part of the last term devolved many of the duties of that office upon him and his discharge of these duties are a sufficient guarantee for the future

Deputy Grand Sire Stokes is the oldest member (in service at consecutive sessions he having been in continuous service and re elected as Representative from Pennsylvania for 30 years) in the Grand Lodge of the United States He has been a member of the Order for 41 years. His long service in subordinate State and national bodies are well known while his zeal and ability are universally acknowledged therefore it may readily be inferred that the second office in the Grand body is worthily filled

Many visitors were in attendance most of whose names have been heretofore given Wm Howard Past Grand, of North Carolina was among the number

A resolution was passed making the sessions from 9 A M to 2 P M

The Grand Body then went into secret session

At the conclusion of the secret session the Grand Lodge adjourned until [illegible] o'clock Wednesday morning

After the adjournment the members went on an excursion to Oglethorpe Park where they were addressed by the Mayor and had a good time generally

The Herald makes personal and very pleasant notice of the two Representatives from the Grand Lodge of Oregon

CITY.

AN INSANE WOMAN.—Complaint was made yesterday by the proper authorities, charging a young woman named Ellen Ennis with insanity. An examination of the case took place before Judge Woodward conducted by Dr. Chapman. The unfortunate young woman was married nearly five years since. Several months ago some domestic trouble arose between herself and husband resulting in a separation. Since the separation the wife has been living most of the time with her mother on Sauvie's Island. She is the mother of two children the youngest of whom is three years. About three years ago Mrs Ennis—her maiden name was Miller—became insane and it was found necessary to send her to the Asylum where she was confined several months. Ever since her discharge she has not been entirely sound and has been frequently in a partially insane condition. She is aged 21 years and was born in Washington county. After the usual tests were made by the examining physicians, she was adjudged insane by the courts and an order of commitment made out. She was taken to the Asylum yesterday evening. This woman went over to Vancouver on Friday and remained there until yesterday morning, when she was brought to this city for examination. An item appeared in the columns of the morning cotemporary yesterday in reference to the young woman, which proves to be entirely without foundation. The paragraph states that a young girl named Miss Miller aged about thirteen years was outraged at Vancouver on Friday night by eight [illegible] from the barracks, who decoyed the girl into the cemetery and after forcing a quantity of whisky down her throat accomplished their hellish purposes. After gratifying their lust, these soldiers departed from the spot leaving the girl torn and bleeding and nearly dead, where she was fortunately found and carried to a house and medical attendance procured. This Mrs Ellen Ennis is the woman to whom reference was made in the item but the whole story proves to be a complete myth. The individual who would intentionally put [illegible] reporter of a paper and cause such a [illegible] story to be circulated is deserving of the severest condemnation. For the credit of [illegible] at the barracks at Vancouver as [illegible] the honor and humanity of privates and [illegible] of our army we are gratified to [illegible] the foul imputation false.

MALICIOUS DEVILTRY.—During last Saturday night certain parties took off both hind wheels of a w[agon] belonging to a well known gentleman of East Portland. The wagon was left standing over night in a vacant lot and aided by the friendly darkness some maliciously [disposed] person or persons took off the wheels and secreted them. Faithful search was made for the missing portions of the vehicle but without success. On Sunday afternoon a lady accidentally discovered them. While leaning over the railing of the J street bridge where it crosses Asylum creek she happened to observe the wheels lying in the water on the bed of the stream. She lost no time in reporting the discovery to the interested parties, and the wheels were fished up. They had been carried by hand or rolled for nearly a quarter of a mile and thrown from the bridge. It was evidently the intention of the persons perpetrating the offense to secrete the wheels where they could never be found and it was by the merest chance that they were discovered. We understand that the perpetrators are strongly suspected.

AT THE HOG'S BACK.—Capt R B Randall who has been down the river for some time making a hydrographic examination of the [cha]nnel of the Columbia, between Woody Island and Tongue Point submits a report which is certainly very favorable to our commercial [interests]. He states in his report to the Engineer's office, that the result of his survey demonstrates the fact that it is wholly needless for the [Government] to do any work on the channel at the Hog's Back the present season. There are [now in] the channel 16½ feet of water at extreme low stages which is sufficient to answer [the dem]ands of navigation by taking advantage of the tide. Capt Randall states that the [light-h]ouse tender Shubrick is now lying at [Astoria]. That vessel will probably come up in a few days and place a number of [buoys] necessary to mark the channel. If the [Shubrick] does not have the time Capt Randall will put several spar buoys to be placed along, [at interv]als which will temporarily serve until permanent ones can be located.

OPEN AIR CONCERT.—A gentleman just from Astoria informs us that the citizens of that place had the pleasure of listening to an impromptu open air concert on last Saturday evening. A number of the people of Astoria [includ]ing many young ladies, collected on the [wharf] at an early hour of the evening and [favored] the crowd with a few songs. Several [vessels] were lying out in the stream at the [time]. Scarcely had the notes of the last song [died aw]ay, when one of the crews started an [other]. When that was ended the crew on another vessel would favor the crowd with a song. And so the thing went round, [somet]imes the sailors singing and sometimes those on shore. The music our informant says was very good and listened to by all with [pleasu]re. These vocal exercises were continued an hour or more when the impromptu [conc]ert was brought to a close.

[BURNED] JOINTINGS.—Yesterday morning a large [bonf]ire was built in the center of E street between Front and First, over several tons of old gas mains, joints, elbows etc. These mains were used for many years by the company [bu]t the construction of the new building [em]ployed for purifying purposes. Not [withsta]nding the fact that the mains have been long used, they are sound and will yet [do] service for years to come. Constant contact with the [gas] has "gummed" them with a coating of coal tar, but the iron has not corroded to any extent. The elbows and joints have been firmly cemented by pouring melted lead in the spaces. The object of building the fire on the mains is to burn off the coal tar and melt out the old lead, so that they may be used by the company when occasion requires.

COURTS.—The United States Circuit Court met yesterday morning at the usual hour 10 o'clock, His Honor, Judge Deady presiding. [illegible] and the Court adjourned. The United States District Court will convene to day. The Circuit Court for Washington county convened yesterday morning at [illegible] the bench. The Circuit Court for Multnomah will convene next Monday morning. Yesterday morning the County Court met, the Commissioners will [illegible].

RAILROAD FERRYBOAT.—When the railroad [ferry] boat collided with the pile driver a few days since, resulting in sinking the latter craft, she sustained considerable damage necessitating temporary delays. The hull was punched and scraped by the rude collision with the driver and one of the rudders and the steering apparatus were partially torn away. Sunday morning one end of the boat was beached and a new rudder attached. The ferry is now making her regular trips.

READY FOR DISTRIBUTION.—Justices of the [Peace] will doubtless be gratified to learn that the new and revised Code is now ready for distribution. Magistrates of Multnomah county can each procure a copy by making application to Mr. Storr the County Clerk. Each [Justi]ce of the Peace is entitled to receive a copy of the new Code gratis which will of [cour]se be handed over to his successor in office along with the books and papers connected with that office.

NEEDS REPAIRS.—The little steam propeller St. Patrick which was built here last summer to run among the fisheries down the river was [tow]ed up yesterday by the Ben Holladay. While running a few days ago the St Patrick broke several teeth out of one of the pinions which temporarily disabled the machinery. She is lying at the foot of F street, and in a few days will have the necessary repairs made.

ANNIVERSARY LECTURE.—Saturday Oct 10 being the anniversary of the birth of Rev Father Mathew Mr S J McCormick will deliver a lecture on the evening of that day at Good Templar Hall. The proceeds are to be applied to the benefit of the Father Mathew T A B Society of this city.

SOCIETY MEETING.—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Temperance Alliance will be held this (Tuesday) afternoon at [3] o clock in the basement of the Presbyterian Church.

GONE TO INSPECT.—Gen N Michler went down the river yesterday morning on an inspecting tour and will be absent most of the present week. He will examine the surveys made by Capt R B Randall, between Tongue Point and Woody Island and then proceeding down the river will inspect the work of the new lighthouse being constructed at Point Adams.

TEMPORARY CHANGE.—The O S S Co's boat Senator has been hauled temporarily off the line between Oregon City and Portland and is at present lying at the former point undergoing repairs. During the time the Senator is being repaired the steamer Alice will take the line.

CALENDAR OF CRIME.—During the month of September 121 arrests were made by the police force, classified as follows: Drunks and disorderlies, 91 assault and battery 19 larceny 5 nameless crimes 3 abusive language 2, selling liquor without license 1.

THE STAGE

George B Waldron is in the Eastern States.

Katie Hollowly's Circus was at Salem on Saturday.

We learn that Jim Vinson the veteran actor is now in Chicago.

Frank Mayo is at present playing Davy Crockett assisted by Rosa Rand at the California Theater.

Williams the bill poster billed Salem on Sunday for the company now playing at the Oro Fino. They will open at Reed's Opera House next Monday evening.

Of the minstrel party that was here two months ago but two, Harley and Richards remain under Maguire's management at the Opera House, San Francisco.

We observe by the Figaro that Madame Phelps advertises for stars, which indicates that the lady is desirous of procuring aid in making the coming season a successful one.

A variety entertainment of an amusing and instructive character will be given at the Museum this evening. This institution is becoming a popular place for our citizens.

The attendance at Oro Fino Theater last night was quite large and the drama Griffith Gaunt was put on the boards in a very excellent manner and was well received. The characters assumed, were in every instance well sustained—particularly Mrs Stone as Kate Peyton and Mr Lufford as Griffith Gaunt the leading parts. The National Fair scene was the most hilarious we have seen for a long time and the court scene was very impressive. The management is using every effort to present none but standard and sterling productions to the public this season and we trust the flattering patronage heretofore given will be continued. Griffith Gaunt will be reproduced this evening and as many points contained in the dramatized story bear a peculiar resemblance to the history of the great scandal so prominently before the public of late, the play is rendered rather interesting.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Columbia Rebekah Degree Lodge will meet this evening.

The National Bank building is receiving a coat of bright paint.

Fifteen hundred Eastern oysters came up to this market by the last steamer.

The steamer John L Stephens, from this port arrived at San Francisco yesterday.

The Ladies' Relief Society will meet at the usual place at 2 o clock this afternoon.

Several merchants have packed up an assortment of goods and hied away to the Albany Fair.

Halpruner Bros have removed from Taylor street to First, next to Hook and Ladder Co's house.

We were led into saying that the Crescents beat the Resolutes last Saturday. No game was played.

The Chinese population were deeply interested yesterday in one of their number who was engaged in putting up an awning.

The College boys want to play at Canby on the 17th, but the Arcadians think it too thin and stick to Oregon City as the place for the next contest.

The horse jeweler has moved around the corner is the style of a sign opposite what was once a Blacksmith shop and now a rendezvous for Chinamen.

The Superior on her last trip to California had the following freight: 96 kgs molasses 1041 sks oats, 2750 staves 800 ft ash 9900 ft oak 3 tons pig iron 1 fire box 1 safe 52 sks bark 1 bx glass, 4404 cs salmon, 20 empty crabovs, 70 M lumber 1 cs mdse.

SHIPPING ITEMS.

The Oriflamme will be due from San Francisco this evening.

The steamer California is lying at the Steamship Co's dock, loading. She will sail for Sitka and way ports on Thursday.

The little schooner Mila Bond from Tillamook arrived a few days ago and is now lying at the foot of Morrison street.

The Grace and Zelotte both finished their cargoes of grain at Astoria last Saturday and crossed the bar on Sunday forenoon.

The schooner Dreadnought completed her cargo of lumber last week for San Francisco and passed out to sea on Sunday morning.

The Garibaldi under charter to carry a load to China, was towed up yesterday morning, to the upper sawmill where she will receive a portion of her cargo.

The bark Rainier which has been lying at anchor out in the stream for some time was hauled alongside Flanders wharf yesterday and began to receive grain for Europe.

The schooner Cambridge from San Francisco with a full assorted cargo arrived at this port yesterday morning from Astoria in tow of the Ben Holladay. She is lying at Corbett wharf.

The schooner Hera which has been receiving brick at Brooklyn for the past week for the Palace Hotel, at San Francisco was towed down yesterday morning to the castle to depot where she will soon complete her cargo.

W JACKSON & CO

The fall season has fairly set in and with it our merchants are opening their new stocks in large quantities. Among those who have prepared for the rush we find those well known clothiers Beck & Waldman who are not behind any in their selections of fall and winter goods. They have studied the present wants of customers and accordingly have purchased at the lowest figure with the object of affording their patrons the greatest advantages. Boys clothing is a specialty with this house and [illegible] the fact.

If you want something that is new and nobby in the way of Clothing we would advise you to call on KOHN who recently brought up an entire new stock of these goods. He is in the best humor over the fact that he has the finest stock in town. When you have time call and look over the goods and if Kohn can't satisfy you why you can put yourself down as a poor judge of clothing and what a reasonable charge is.

YOUR FALL CLOTHING.—Tis time to order your early Fall Clothing now and of course you know that you should order from JOHN O'NEIL & CO'S 3 First Street. BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of East Portland met last evening at 7 o clock. Members present—Buckman Hoyt, Parrott and Stephens. Absent—Lamg and President VanCleave.

A J Hoyt President pro tem, in the chair. Minutes of the regular meeting of September 21st and special meeting of September 28th were read and approved.

PETITIONS

The petition of T J Robinson and others asking that no resolution or ordinance providing for the removal of obstructions from the streets be enforced for the space of ninety days, unless in cases where in the opinion of the Street Commissioner such obstructions actually interfere with travel upon the streets and sidewalks to the danger and inconvenience of the public. Read and on motion further consideration indefinitely postponed.

CLAIMS

The following claims against the city were read and ordered paid: A J Hoyt $40 45 W S Gord[on] $12 60 sundry claims on the Street Repair Fund, $102 50 T A Newell S J K Neal, $50 W S Gordon $1.

REPORT

The report of the Street Commissioner, in relation to the delinquent tax for repair of streets was read and filed.

ORDINANCE

An ordinance to amend section 3 of Ordinance No 116, concerning obstructions of streets and sidewalks was read first and second times and referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr Buckman offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved That the Street Commissioner is hereby directed to proceed forthwith to collect the delinquent list of the special tax for the repair of streets according to law, and make his return for the same to the Board at its next meeting.

On motion the Board adjourned until Oct 19th.

The Gorgons were three celebrated sisters whose hairs were entwined with serpents they had wings of gold, their heads were of brass their bodies covered with scales their teeth were as long as the tusks of a wild boar and they turned to stone all on whom they fixed their eyes. They are mythological creations—but in these days there may be seen some women who are regardless of their person and adornments—they allow the charms which nature accords to all their sex their hair to become dishevelled unhealthy and finally to drop out when by the use of LYON'S KATHAIRON they could retain it in all its beauty and present to their lovers and husbands the witching grace of comeliness.

THE BOBOLINK.

Once on a golden afternoon
With radiant faces and hearts in tune
Two fond lovers in dreaming mood
Threaded a rural solitude
Wholly happy they only knew
That the earth was bright and the sky was blue
That light and beauty and joy and song
Charmed the way as they passed along
The air was fragrant with woodland scents—
The squirrel frisked on the roadside fence—
And hovering near them "Chee chee chink"
Queried the curious bobolink,
Pausing and peering with sidelong head
As saucily questioning all they said
While the oxeye danced on its slender stem
And all glad nature rejoiced with them

Over the odorous fields were strewn
Wilting windrows of grass new mown
And rosy billows of clover bloom
Surged in the sunshine and breathed perfume
Swinging low on a slender limb
The sparrow warbled his wedding hymn,
And balancing on a blackberry brier
The bobolink sang with his heart on fire—
"Chink? If you wish to kiss her do!
Do it, do it! You [illegible] you
Kiss her! kiss her! Who will see?
Only we three! we three! we three

Under garlands of drooping vines
Through dim vistas of sweet breathed pines
Past wide meadow fields, lately mowed
Wandered the indolent country road
The lovers followed it listening still,
And loitering slowly, as lovers will
Entered a gray roofed bridge that lay
Dusk and cool in their pleasant way
Under its arch a smooth brown stream,
Silently glided with glint and gleam
Shaded by graceful elms which spread
Their verdurous canopy overhead—
The stream so narrow the boughs so wide,
They met and mingled across the tide
Alders loved it and seemed to keep
Patient watch as it lay asleep
Mirroring clearly the trees and sky
And the flitting form of the dragon fly —
Save where the swift winged swallow played
In and out in the sun and shade,
And darting and circling in merry chase
Dipped and dimpled its [illegible], dark face

Fluttering lightly from brink to brink
Followed the garrulous bobolink
Rallying loudly with mirthful din
The pair who lingered unseen within
And when from the friendly bridge at last
Into the road they [illegible] passed
Again beside them the tempter went,
Keeping the thread of his argument—
"Kiss her! kiss her! chink a chee chee
I'll not mention it! Don't mind me
I'll be sentinel—I can see
All around from this tall birch tree
But ah! they noted—nor deemed it strange—
In his rollicking chorus a trifling change,—
Do it, do it!—with might and main
Warbled the tell tale— Do it again!

THE LOUISIANA PEACE CONFERENCE

[From the N Y Times]

The conference was asked of Gov Kellogg by representatives of the Democratic Party, and was granted by him and his party in the hope of establishing a more friendly relation between the members of all political factions. The Republicans would however, enter into no discussion of the affairs of the State until the representative Democrats should have agreed to sign a resolution, which sets forth in substance that Gov Kellogg having been recognized and his authority having been re-established by the President of the United States, he shall be permitted to peaceably exercise the functions of his office, as shall also all the minor and assistant officers recognized by him throughout the State. This was agreed to after some little discussion, and the conference was continued.

The first proposition made by the Southern element of the Conference Committee was that both Kellogg and McEnery should resign, that the Board of [illegible] be called together and directed to declare that the returns showed that Penn, who ran for Lieutenant Governor on the fusion or mixed Democratic and Liberal ticket had been elected and that he, upon assuming control of the Administration, should order at once a new election for all State offices. This proposition the Republicans rejected upon the simple ground that it was unconstitutional. The next proposition made by the Democrats was that a new election should be held under the inspection and control of officers of the United States Army. This and other propositions of a similar nature were also rejected on the ground that they were unconstitutional.

The next question taken up was that of registration of voters. As already stated, this was the subject that occupied most of the time spent in the conference and was the cause of the un[satis]factory breaking up of the meeting. In this State the law provides for the appointment by the Governor of one register in each parish or county and in each of the city wards. Each register is entitled to two clerks. In making his appointments this year, Gov Kellogg proposed to the Democrats, as he states that they should have the appointment of one clerk in each district and called upon the State Central Committee to name the men who would be agreeable to them. Not content with this as the Kellogg party claim, the Democrats demanded that half the registers be appointed from their supporters. This Kellogg would not agree to and the Central Committee refused to send in a list of names of appointments to clerkships. Knowing how much depended upon a settlement of this question United States Marshal Packard who was the Republican leader in the conference, states that he was willing to make all reasonable concessions to the opposition. With this object in view, he assured them on the part of his party that none but honest, good men should be allowed to hold the office of Register. The Democrats were not content with this assurance and still demanded half the appointments. After much heated discussion during which Gov Kellogg stated that instead of dictating terms to the party in power the leaders of the Democracy should be in jail for treason, it was proposed, as a compromise that an advisory committee of five should be appointed, to be composed of two Republicans two Democrats, and one non partisan to be selected by the conference. The fifth man was finally agreed upon in the person of Dr Banzano, for twenty five years Superintendent of the United States Mint in this city. It was proposed that the Committee so constituted should carry on and supervise the registration throughout the State on behalf of both parties, that they should have full power to make changes in the registering officers. The Governor on his part promised that he would act upon the advice of this committee so long as he could do so in accordance with the laws of the State. It was further settled that besides the Governor, the committee should have power to remove an officer connected with registration who failed to perform his duties honestly, and that they should be allowed to revise lists of names already registered. This proposition was in a measure agreed upon. This was the condition of affairs up to this morning when the subject of the State canvass was taken up.

The Election law of Louisiana provides that a Returning Board or board of State Canvassers to consist of five persons shall be elected each year by the State Senate. That body at its last session elected two colored and three white men to these positions. The native white element of the State not being satisfied with the personnel of the board the Kellogg party proposed to create two vacancies which should be filled by nominees of the Democracy. This Marshal Packard states would not be agreed to by the latter. They demanded that three vacancies be created, two to be filled by Democrats and the third by a gentleman agreeable to both factions. This demand was most emphatically refused, and after a protracted debate, lasting until evening, a final adjournment was had.

During a subsequent conversation with Gov K[ellogg], Marshal Packard and other Republicans, they stated that under no circumstances would they recede from the stand they have taken, and should their opponents also remain firm, it was not likely that another meeting of conference would be called.

Hon R B Cowen, Assistant Secretary of the Interior and Admiral Rogers of the navy, arrived here from Washington this morning. They came as a committee representing the National Government and during the afternoon were in private consultation with Kellogg and other State and Federal officials. It is understood that Mr Cowen expressed the opinion that the Kellogg party had acted most commendably during the late disturbances and assured the Governor of the further support of President Grant. The subject of instituting legal proceedings for conspiracy and treason against the leaders of the riots was discussed but no conclusion arrived at.

The local money market is without special change. The same conditions last reported are still observable. The supply of money is ample but not over abundant and the lending continues quite brisk but is readily met when the requisite paper at companies it.

With the advance of the fall season the proofs multiply in support of the opinion heretofore expressed that for the next few months at least we may expect an unusually tranquil money market. Noting the cessation of the drain on the Bank of England the Financial Chronicle of Sept 26th says:

If ten millions of gold should still be needed from us we can without perturbing or crippling our own monetary movements, export that amount of gold or more with ease. Thus the danger is taken away that monetary trouble here might arise from the failing reserves of the Bank of England. On the contrary our money position will in all probability be improved by the continued tide of investment which sets this way from the other side of the Atlantic.

The widely extended policy of liquidation pursued during the past year has culminated leaving the business of the country at large on a safer basis than it has reached since the previous great settlement which followed the panic of 18[illegible]. Caution prevails in every department and new engagements are entered into very carefully. The result is that while we have not the expanded volume of business which characterized trade in many years during and since the war, a safer business is being done with only such debts being contracted as can be easily met. The general movement to-day is fair in nearly all departments of trade. Business in some branches is quite active while in others transactions are rather slow, and the aggregate was not above average.

In the dry goods trade the jobbers and wholesale houses are doing a reasonable share of business which does not fall much if any below the average of former years. Prices in this line are somewhat weaker on leading makes of cotton goods.

Groceries are brisk, and trade in that line is quite brisk at firm rates. Sugars are steady and syrups active at the advance. The supply of the latter in the State is ample at present. Coffees seem hardly to sympathize with the weakening tendency noticed in the Eastern markets.

Grain and Provision Reports

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business September 21 contained 1,632,331 bushels of grain embracing 613,128 bushels of wheat 867,401 bushels of corn 254,314 bushels of oats 16,291 bushels of rye and 80,091 bushels of barley against 1,182,050 bushels one week previous, and 7,762,87[illegible] bushels at this period last year.

The stock of grain in Buffalo Monday September 21st was 80,000 bushels of wheat, 40,000 bushels of corn and 40,000 bushels of oats.

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada September 12th was: Wheat 7,3[illegible]67[illegible] bushels corn 5,[illegible]08 bushels oats 1,610,2[illegible] bushels barley 218,000 bushels.

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the ports of [illegible] New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston and New Orleans for the week ending September 19th were—Pork, 1,122 barrels lard, 1,187,000 pounds bacon 2,600,000 pounds flour, 65,327 barrels wheat 795,000 bushels corn 179,000 bushels.

Produce Market.

The most active state of affairs in this department of trade is not likely to set in until after the season of [illegible] is past. These occasions are now [illegible] a good deal of attention at the hands of the farming classes. However our market to-day exhibits a good deal of activity in the country produce line, with but slight movement in rates either up or down. The great staple of wheat is yet the leading article attracting the attention of dealers but out of much agitation no important or new features have been developed to day. The current offers are $1 65 per cental, at which purchases are occasionally made, though the bulk of the surplus in the State is yet hardly touched. We learn of sales aggregating about 25,000 bushels made in the past three days at $1 55@1 57½ per cental. The bark Ramolino has begun to receive cargo making the eighth vessel of the season six—the Alumini, Hermine, Orissa, Moonbeam, Marianne and Zulette—having loaded and sailed against the same number up to a corresponding date last year. Receipts here are large, the warehouses along the lines of transportation sending supplies forward only to make room for other lots coming from the farmers' granaries. We hear of no change in foreign or San Francisco markets.

Considerable lots of oats are now coming forward, and the supply rather exceeds the demand. Prices have declined to 40 cents per bushel including sacks for good white oats, black 5 cents lower. Shipments are increasing. Feed of all kinds in full supply and rates weaker. Hay steady at $15@11 per ton for timothy wild finding no sales. Potatoes plentiful at 35@50c per bushel according to quality. Bacon scarce at our last quotations but well supplied at the usual rates. Eggs are firm today at 37c per dozen. Chickens exceed the demand and are slow sale at $3@ [illegible] per dozen. Hides and wool are unchanged. Ripe fruits in abundant supply and prices quite low, especially for apples and pears.

Then and Now.

Nearly all the ships which left at our port last year for Europe received £5 per ton, charter money. Though some of them which arrived out early in the season may have proved profitable to those holding the charters, there can be no doubt that those recently reaching the depressed market of England in the face of an abundant home harvest will net heavy losses to the shippers. Many of the vessels here now and on the way were also chartered at much higher figures than now prevail or than could possibly be obtained. While the supply of tonnage is much greater this year on account of the high freights and brisk demand in 1873, we can see reasons to fear that the lower rates and apparently lessened demand which prevail now will tend to decrease the supply in 1875.

One year ago our market for wheat was quoted at $1 60 per cental and the grain was coming in rapidly with no vessels here to take it. Now we have nearly a score of vessels in the river and no wheat at hand to load them. Then Liverpool quotations were 12s 7d@12 3d for average California, and 13s [illegible] 13s 9d for club. One week ago, the quotation for short parcels were 10s@10s 3d for average and 10s 4d @10s 9d for club. The contrast in the San Francisco market between this year and last is even still greater—the difference here being [illegible] cents per cental and there 90 cents.

The foregoing facts and figures being considered we are not astonished that both shippers and farmers should feel a little discouraged at the prospect, the former at the dull markets abroad with ships chartered when everything was up and the latter at the low prices which it seems must prevail for some time to come. The principal reason for this condition of matters has been often given the abundant crops in the countries which compete with us in the markets of England.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Oriflamme from San Francisco with freight and passengers will be due at this port to-morrow evening.

The schooner Hera is at the [illegible] wharf completing her cargo with produce for the San Francisco market.

The schooner Oregonian hence with lumber arrived at San Francisco to day.

The bark Ramolino has hauled alongside Flanders' wharf and begun receiving her cargo of wheat for Europe, the eighth vessel of the season six having loaded and sailed and the St Nicholas is on the berth.

The bark Annie C W Weston hence with [illegible]0 tons of wheat arrived at Liverpool via Queenstown on the 17th of September. She sailed April 17th.

The French bark Cordouan hence for Cork with orders April 3d arrived at Hull via Falmouth September 28th with 14,[illegible] centals wheat.

The bark Gateshead was in port at Shields England, September 18th destined for this port via Rio.

The German bark Sophia Helene was in the same port on the same date destined for Oregon via Valparaiso.

The bark Alden Besse Capt Noyes which sailed hence June 10th for Sidney N S W with lumber arrived at her destination August 18th making the trip on the remarkably short period of 60 days.

The bark James Wishart sailed from Auckland, New Zealand, August 16th for this port.

THE BOBOLINK

Once on a golden afternoon,
With radiant faces and hearts in tune
Two fond lovers in dreaming mood
Threaded a rural solitude
Wholly happy they only knew
That the earth was bright and the sky was blue.
That light and beauty and joy and song
Charmed the way as they passed along
The air was fragrant with woodland scents—
The squirrel frisked on the roadside fence—
And hovering near them "Chee chee chink"
Queried the curious bobolink
Pausing and peering with a doleful head,
As saucily questioning all they said
While the ox eye daisies on its slender stem
And all glad nature rejoiced with them

Over the odorous fields were strewn
Wilting windrows of grass new mown
And rosy billows of clover bloom
Surged in the sunshine and breathed perfume
Swinging low on a slender limb
The sparrow warbled his wedding hymn,
And balancing on a blackberry brier
The bobolink sung with his heart on fire—
"Chink? If you wish to kiss her do?
Do it, do it! [illegible]
Kiss her! kiss, kiss her? Who will see?
Only we three! we three! we three!"

Under garlands of drooping vines
Through dim vistas of sweet-breathed pines
Past [illegible] lately mowed
Wandered the indolent country road
The lovers followed it listening still
And loitering slowly as lovers will
Entered a gray roofed bridge that lay
Dusk and cool in their pleasant way
Under its arch a smooth brown [illegible]
Silently glided with glint and [illegible]
Shaded by graceful elms [illegible]
Their verdurous canopy [illegible]
The stream so narrow the bows so wide,
They met and mingled across the tide,
Alders loved it and seemed to keep
Patient watch as it lay asleep
Mirroring clearly the trees and sky
And the flitting form of the dragon fly—
Save where the swift winged swallow played
In and out in the sun and shade,
And darting and circling in merry chase,
Dipped and dimpled [illegible] dark face
Fluttering lightly [illegible] brink to brink
Followed the garrulous bobolink
Rallying loudly with mirthful din
The pair who lingered unseen within
And when from the friendly bridge at last
Into the road beyond they passed
Again beside them the tempter went
Keeping the thread of his argument—
Kiss her! kiss her! chink a chee chee
I'll not mention it! Don't mind me!
I'll be sentinel—I can see
All around from this tall birch tree!
But ah! they noted—nor deemed it strange—
In his rollicking chorus a trifling change—
Do it, do it!—with might and main
Warbled the tell tale—Do it again!

THE LOUISIANA PEACE CONFERENCE

[From the N. Y. Times]

The conference was asked of Gov Kellogg by representatives of the Democratic Party, and was granted by him and his party in the hope of establishing a more friendly relation between the members of all political factions The Republicans would however enter into no discussion of the affairs of the State until the representative Democrats should have agreed to sign a resolution, which sets forth in substance, that Gov Kellogg having been recognized and his authority having been re-established by the President of the United States, he should be permitted to peaceably exercise the functions of his office as shall also all the minor and assistant officers recognized by him throughout the State. This was agreed to after some little discussion, and the conference was continued.

The first proposition made by the Southern element of the Conference Committee was that both Kellogg and McEnery should resign, that the Board of [illegible] as he called together and directed to declare that the returns showed that Penn, who ran for Lieutenant Governor on the fusion or mixed Democratic and [illegible] ticket had been elected and that he, upon assuming control of the Administration, should order at once a new election for all State offices This proposition the Republicans rejected upon the simple ground that it was unconstitutional The next proposition made by the Democrats was that a new election should be held under the inspection and control of officers of the United States Army This and other propositions of a similar nature were also rejected on the ground that they were unconstitutional

The next question taken up was that of registration of voters As already stated, this was the subject that occupied most of the time spent in the conference and was the cause of the unsatisfactory breaking up of the meeting In this State the law provides for the appointment by the Governor of one register in each parish or county and in each of the city wards Each register is entitled to two clerks In making his appointments this year Gov Kellogg proposed to the Democrats as he states that they should have the appointment of one clerk in each district and called upon the State Central Committee to name the man who would be agreeable to them Not content with this as the Kellogg party claim the Democrats demanded that half the registers be appointed from their supporters This Kellogg would not agree to and the Central Committee refused to send in a list of names of appointments to clerkships. Knowing how much depended upon a settlement of this question United States Marshal Packard who was the Republican leader in the conference states that he was willing to make all reasonable concessions to the opposition With this object in view, he assured them on the part of his party that none but honest, good men should be allowed to hold the office of Register The Democrats were not content with this assurance, and still demanded half the appointments After much heated discussion during which Gov Kellogg stated that instead of dictating terms to the party in power the leaders of the Democracy should be in jail for treason, it was proposed as a compromise that an advisory committee of five should be appointed to be composed of two Republicans two Democrats, and one non partisan to be selected by the conference The fifth man was finally agreed upon in the person of Dr Banzano for twenty five years Superintendent of the United States Mint of this city. It was proposed that the Committee so constituted should carry on and supervise the registration throughout the State on behalf of both parties that they should have full power to make changes in the registering officers The Governor on his part promised that he would act upon the advice of this committee so long as he could do so in accordance with the laws of the State It was further settled that besides the Governor, the committee should have power to remove an officer connected with registration who failed to perform his duties honestly and that they should be allowed to revise lists of names already registered Thus proposition was in a measure agreed upon. This was the condition of affairs up to this morning when the subject of the State canvass was taken up

The Election law of Louisiana provides that a Returning Board or board of State Canvassers to consist of five persons shall be elected each year by the State Senate That body at its last session elected two colored and three white men to these positions The native white citizens of the State not being satisfied with the personnel of the board the Kellogg party proposed to create two vacancies which should be filled by nominees of the Democracy This Marshal Packard states would not be agreed to by the latter They demanded that three vacancies be created two to be filled by Democrats and the third by a gentleman agreeable to both factions. This demand was most emphatically refused, and after a protracted debate, lasting until evening a final adjournment was had

During a subsequent conversation with Gov [illegible] and [illegible] Republicans they stated that under no circumstances would they recede from the stand they have taken, and should their opponents also remain firm it was not likely that another meeting of conference would be called

Hon R B Cowen Assistant Secretary of the Interior and Admiral Rogers of the navy arrived here from Washington this morning They came as a committee representing the National Government and during the afternoon were in private consultation with Kellogg and other State and Federal officials It is understood that Mr Cowen expressed the opinion that the Kellogg party had acted most commendably during the late disturbances and assured the Governor of the further support of President Grant The subject of instituting legal proceedings for conspiracy and treason against the leaders of the riots was discussed but no conclusion arrived at

The local money market is without special change The same conditions last reported are still observable. The supply of money is ample but not over abundant and the demand continues quite brisk but is readily met when the requisite paper accompanies it.

With the advance of the fall season the proofs multiply in support of the opinion heretofore expressed that for the next few months at least we may expect an unusually tranquil money market Noting the cessation of the drain on the Bank of England the Financial Chronicle of Sept 26 says

If ten millions of gold should still be needed from us we can without perturbing or crippling our own money movements, export that amount of gold or more with ease Thus the danger is taken away that monetary trouble here might arise from the falling reserves of the Bank of England On the contrary our money position will in all probability be improved by the continued tide of investment which sets this way from the other side of the Atlantic

The widely extended policy of liquidation pursued during the past year has culminated leaving the business of the country at large on a safer basis than it has rested on since the previous great settlement which followed the prices of 1857 Caution prevails in every department and new engagements are entered into very carefully The result is that while we have not the expanded volume of business which characterized trade in many years during and since the war a safer business is being done with only such debts being contracted as can be easily met The general movement to day is fair in nearly all departments of trade Business in some branches is quite active while in others transactions are rather slow, and the aggregate was not above average

In the dry goods trade the jobbers and wholesale houses are doing a reasonable share of business which does not fall much if any below the average of former years Prices in this line are somewhat weaker on leading makes of cotton goods

Groceries are brisk and trade in that line is quite brisk at firm rates. Sugars are steady and syrups active at the advance The supply of the latter in the State is ample at present Coffees seem hardly to sympathize with the weakening tendency noticed in the Eastern markets

Grain and Provision Reports.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business September [illegible] contained [illegible] bushels of grain embracing 643 [illegible] bushels of wheat [illegible] bushels of corn 2[illegible]4 314 bushels of oats 16 291 bushels of rye and 80 991 bushels of barley against 1 902,060 bushels one week previous and [illegible] bushels at this period last year

The stock of grain in Buffalo Monday September 1st, was 60,000 bushels of wheat 40,000 bushels of corn and 40 000 bushels of oats

The visible supply of grain in the United States and Canada, September 12th was Wheat [illegible] bushels corn [illegible] 108 bushels oats 1 610 2[illegible] bushels barley [illegible] bushels

The exports of breadstuffs and provisions from the ports of [illegible] New York Philadelphia, [illegible] Baltimore and New Orleans for the week ending September 19th were Pork, 1 122 barrels lard 1,187,000 pounds bacon 2,660,000 pounds flour, 65 827 barrels wheat, 705 000 bushels corn 179,000 bushels

Farmers Market.

The most active state of affairs in this department of trade is not likely to be until after the season of [illegible] These occasions are [illegible] a great deal of attention at the hands of the farming classes However our market to day exhibits a good deal of activity in the country produce line, with but slight movement in rates either up or down The great staple of wheat is yet the leading article attracting the attention of dealers but out of much agitation no important or new features have been developed to day The current offers are $1 30 per cental at which purchases are occasionally made, though the bulk of the surplus in the State is yet hardly touched We learn of sales aggregating about 25,000 bushels made in the past three days, at $1 30@1 37½ per cental The bark Ramolino has begun to receive cargo making the eighth vessel of the season six—the Almatul Hermine Orissa Moonbeam Marianne and Zuletto—having loaded and sailed against the same number up to a corresponding date last year Receipts here are large the warehouses along the lines of transportation sending supplies forward only to make room for other lots coming from the farmers granaries We hear of no change in foreign or San Francisco markets

Considerable lots of oats are now coming forward and the supply rather exceeds the demand Prices have declined to 40 cents per bushel including sacks for good white oats black, 5 cents lower Shipments are increasing Feed of all kinds in full supply and rates weaker hay steady at $9 @$11 per ton for timothy, wild finding no sale Potatoes plentiful at 35@50c per bushel, according to quality Bacon scarce at our last quotations but well supplied at the usual rates Eggs are firm to day at 25c per dozen Chickens exceed the demand and are slow sale at $3@4 per dozen Hides and wool are unchanged Ripe fruits in abundant supply and prices quite low especially for apples and pears

Then and Now.

Nearly all the ships which loaded at our port last year for Europe received £5 per ton, charter money Though some of them which arrived out early in the season may have proved profitable to those holding the charters, there can be no doubt that those recently reaching the depressed market of England in the face of an abundant home harvest will net heavy losses to the shippers Many of the vessels here now and on the way were also chartered at much higher figures than now prevail or than could possibly be obtained While the supply of tonnage is much greater this year on account of the high freights and brisk demand in 1873 we can see reasons to fear that the lower rates and apparently lessened demand which prevail now will tend to decrease the supply in 1875

One year ago our market for wheat was quoted at $1 80 per cental and the grain was coming in rapidly with no vessels here to take it Now we have nearly a score of vessels in the river and no wheat at hand to load them. Then Liverpool quotations were 12s 7d@12 9d for average California, and 13s@13s 2d for club One week ago the quotation for short parcels were 10s@10s 1d for average and 10s 4d @10s 9d for club The contrast in the San Francisco market between this year and last is even still greater—the difference here being [illegible] cents per cental and there 80 cents

The foregoing facts and figures being considered we are not astonished that both shippers and farmers should feel a little discouraged at the prospect the former at the dull markets abroad with ships chartered when everything was up and the latter at the low prices which it seems must prevail for some time to come The principal reason for this condition of matters has been often given the abundant crops in the countries which compete with us in the markets of England
